

Stationary Planets in Transit

Introduction

Planets switching from direct motion to retrogression or from retrogression to direct motion become nearly stationary over a period of time during the transition. Such planets seem to become very powerful and seem to trigger events related to the natal planetary positions touched by them by conjunction or aspect. Stationary transits of Jupiter and Saturn seem to be particularly important. We will study the impact of such transits in this article.

I would like to acknowledge that the importance of stationary planets in bringing about important results was mentioned to me once by Dr Manish Pandit, who is a yogi, astrologer and author. I took that basic idea and developed into simple principles that I tested on some examples.

Principle

Jupiter and Saturn are slow moving planets and important planets. When a planet is stationary in transit, i.e. moving with a much smaller speed than usual, the planet is akin to a person who is calm and still. Just as a person who is calm and still can focus better and be more productive, a stationary planet can focus its energies better and give some important results.

The natal positions touched by such a planet by conjunction or aspect are activated by the stationary transit. Conjunction and aspects of a transiting planet on planets in natal rasi chart as well as natal divisional charts seem to be important.

A stationary planet in quadrants or trines from lagna of a natal rasi/divisional chart seems to trigger good results related to the natal positions in that chart that are conjoined or aspected by it. A stationary planet in dusthanas from lagna of a natal rasi/divisional chart seems to trigger bad results related to the natal positions in that chart that are conjoined or aspected by it.

As stationary transit of Jupiter and Saturn takes place a couple of times every year and covers a very small fraction of the zodiac, one cannot expect results to be triggered only by extremely close conjunctions. One can instead take an orb of about 7 degrees.

Not every event can be seen with this approach, as events do happen even when planets are not stationary. However, if a planet is moving very slowly and has a close conjunction or aspect on an important point of the natal chart, significant events can be expected around such times.

This will be illustrated using some practical examples. More research may be needed to refine this. I have used Jagannatha ayanamsa (variation of Lahiri ayanamsa based on taking the mean Sun-earth plane instead of an oscillating plane and fixing Chitra star at 180 deg always). I have used true nodes. I have used divisional longitudes freely.

In the natal D-10 chart, Saturn is a functional malefic and he was transiting at 16Cn41 in the 8th house from natal D-10 lagna at 20Sc38. Thus, he should give bad results.

Mars is the lord of lagna and GL in natal D-10. He is at 14Cp03 in D-10. Transit Saturn at 16Cn41 had a close aspect on him.

In the natal rasi chart, GL is at 21Ar51. Transit Saturn at 16Cn43 had a close aspect on GL.

Saturn and Jupiter were stationary and transiting in the 11th house from natal D-9 lagna at 24Ge00. They are the 9th (dharma) and 7th (marriage) lords in natal D-9. They can give good results during that transit.

Lagna lord Mercury at 4Sc08 and 9th lord Rahu at 5Sc22 have a raja yoga in D-9. Stationary Saturn at 0Ta10 and stationary Jupiter at 7Ta19 have close aspects on them and can give marriage.

Overall, Saturn and Jupiter were stationary during good transits w.r.t. natal D-9 lagna and touched natal points important for marriage.

Example 12: A Spiritual Experience

Birthdata: 1970 April 4, 5:47:13 pm (IST), Machilipatnam, India (81e08, 16n10)

Event: He had a profound and life-altering spiritual experience on 2005 June 10

According to Parasara, D-20 is the chart of spiritual sadhana.

Jupiter was retrograde till 2005 June 5, when he just turned direct. At the time of the event, Jupiter was moving quite slowly at around 15Vi04.

In the natal D-20 chart, Jupiter is the 8th and 11th lord. He is a functional malefic, but he owns the 8th house of sadhana and mystical experiences. He was transiting in the 5th house from natal D-20 lagna at 12Ta53. That is an excellent transit. So Jupiter can give good results relating to sadhana and experience.

In the natal D-20 chart, lagna is at 12Ta53. Transit Jupiter at 15Vi04 had a close aspect on lagna. In fact, more importantly, lagna in natal rasi chart is at 14Vi09 and stationary Jupiter at 15Vi04 was in close contact with it.

Overall, Jupiter was very stationary during a good transit w.r.t. natal D-20 lagna and touched lagna in D-20 and rasi closely. He spiritual life and overall life were redefined and given a new direction.

There is one more subtle factor that seems to hold up in some other charts I have seen. D-60 shows how good karmas from past life play a role in current life. When defining the list of matters to be seen in each divisional chart, Parasara says D-60 shows “everything”. D-60 seems to be important for spiritual experiences and realization.

In natal D-60, the lord of the 12th house of liberation is Jupiter and he is in the 5th house at 15Ta56. The stationary Jupiter at 15Vi04 was in the 9th house from natal D-60 lagna (excellent transit) and he closely aspected natal 12th lord Jupiter.

Example 13: Ramana Maharshi's First Experience of "Self"

Birthdata: 1879 December 30, 1:02 am (IST), Pondicherry, India (78e15, 9n50)

Event: He held spontaneous self-enquiry and experienced Self on 1896 July 17 and it changed the course of his life.

According to Parasara, D-20 is the chart of spiritual sadhana.

Saturn was retrograde till 1896 July 16, when he just turned direct. At the time of the event, Saturn was moving quite slowly at around 20Li00.

In the natal D-20 chart, Saturn is lagna lord and a functional benefic. He was transiting in the 9th house from natal D-20 lagna at 20Li00. That is an excellent transit. So Saturn can give good results relating to spiritual sadhana during the stationary transit.

Though stationary Saturn at 20Li00 does not have close aspect on any natal planet in D-20 (except a perfect half aspect on Mars at 20Ge08), he has a close aspect on 8th lord Mars in natal rasi chart at 22Ar00.

If we look at D-60 as in the previous chart, the 12th co-lord Rahu is at 20Li56. Stationary Saturn at 20Li00 has a close conjunction with him. A stationary planet is touching the natal D-60 longitude of the 12th lord of natal D-60.

Note on D-60 Link: I can give one more example of the D-60 link mentioned in this example and in the previous example, without revealing the birthdata as I do not have permission. I know of a yogi who entered Nirvikalpa Samadhi for the first time in the first week of May 2004. Nirvikalpa Samadhi is a non-dual state where perception of "I" and "others" ceases completely in the mind and mind is absorbed in Brahman or Aatman, without any objectification or duality left in it.

Jupiter was retrograde till 2004 May 4 and became direct on the day. When this yogi entered Nirvikalpa Samadhi, Jupiter was very stationary around 15Le00. In his natal D-60 chart, Pisces rises and Saturn is the lord of the 12th house. Saturn is at 15Le43 in natal D-60. Stationary Jupiter conjoined him when the event happened.

Overall, a good stationary transit touching the 12th lord of natal D-60 seems to be capable of bringing significant events in spiritual life, in the direction liberation.

Conclusion

When planets, especially Jupiter and Saturn, become stationary during transitions between direct motion and retrograde motion, they become focused and powerful to give results. The houses and natal planets touched by them by way of a conjunction or an aspect can be triggered and significant results can be given. My simple findings were illustrated using examples. These ideas and examples demonstrate the utility of divisional longitudes.

It is hoped that intelligent and sincere students and researchers of this divine subject will take this knowledge further.
